

I can exist today, my work can exist today because during my whole life various individualities, more or less, have had a moral or material influence upon me. But the person who has influenced me most and has been most devoted to me is my wife, Irena, whose sacrifices at the hard period of my life, when my art remained ignored, I do appreciate extremely. She has been the only person believing in the intentions, truth and agony of my 20 year long activity. It is she who has enabled me to devote myself entirely to art. A moment will come when my work will be better understood, as will be also the role of Irena who is the inseparable part of my daily efforts. There is and will be ever my gratitude to her.

To end the 30 year long relationship with my dearest friend, Irena, was for me the saddest moment in my life – but life has to go on. I have to accept her new, different life-course. It is going to be harder for me from now on, but I will try to survive existentially and artistically. I wish her the best of luck from the bottom of my heart. I am very grateful to her.
